Feedback:

G. Pavan Kalyan expressed his gratitude to Vignan for the warm welcome and inspiring atmosphere. He emphasized the significance of entrepreneurship, learning from failure, and recognizing individual potential. Sharing his experiences from marketing various schemes of innovation as career opportunities, and he was delighted to inspire the next generation of innovators and startups.

Students thought the training was very helpful and inspiring. A successful entrepreneur led a motivational lesson called "From Idea to Impact." It was very helpful because it taught students how to come up with business ideas and how to ask for funding. It helped us learn more about business and creativity. We're thankful that the organizers put together these events, and we look forward to more work in the future to support innovation, startups, and the growth of businesses.
